

Privacy Policy

Brick-n-Wire LLC is deeply committed to respecting and protecting your right to privacy and takes your privacy seriously. We strive to keep your personal and financial information secure. We have prepared this privacy policy to disclose and describe our information gathering and dissemination practices for this website.

Most of all, we value your privacy. We do not sell, rent, loan, or give your email address or other personal information to anybody without your express permission.

Collection of your Personal Information

You can visit various pages on our website without giving us any information about yourself. But sometimes we do need information to provide services that you request, and this privacy policy explains data collection and use in those situations. Please read the complete privacy policy below in conjunction with our Terms and Conditions.

This privacy policy covers our treatment of personally identifiable information that we collect when you are on our website, and when you use our services.

We pledge to hold all information you provide to us in absolute privacy.

We will NEVER sell or rent your name or personal information to any third party without your express permission.

We NEVER sell or rent our email subscriber list.

Only authorized employees may access your information.

All employees are required to adhere to our strict privacy policies and any employee who violates the privacy policy is subject to termination and other disciplinary measures, up to being criminally prosecuted for their violation.

Use of Your Personal Information

If you decide to become a member, you will receive a short series of orientation emails from Brick-n-Wire. From time to time, members may receive notifications about changes to policies. We will not send you any other unsolicited email at the address you provide, except for infrequent communications to resolve issues that may arise with your own Brick-n-Wire account. We also offer a variety of optional newsletter and promotional subscriptions. Any members, who wish not to receive these optional emails and notifications, can elect to opt-out at anytime.

Special offers are sometimes sent to members on behalf of third parties. But these third parties do not have access to personal information since we alone send out the emails. All recipients of third-party emails are given the opportunity to opt-out of future third-party mailings at any time by clicking the link at the bottom of any email.

Our site uses cookies to save your username and password if you become a member and decide to use the "Remember Me" option. This means you don't have to re-enter these items each time you visit our website. You can always logout, which will delete this cookie from your computer. We may track and store geolocation information related to your IP address. This information may be used to provide you with the most relevant material, as well as allow for more effective communications.

Additionally, we use session variables to aid in the development of various features on the site. These session variables disappear after extended idle time or when the user exits a browser. Thus, this information is not stored for any reason other than as indicated.

We may also use personal information in a manner that does not identify you specifically nor allow you to be contacted but does identify certain criteria about our users in general. For example, we may inform third parties about the number of registered users, number of unique visitors, and the pages most frequently browsed. Aside from these uses of user information, we do not sell, nor plan to sell any user information to anyone.
